

Call for Papers

Seventh Australasian Women and Policing Conference
Grand Chancellor Hotel, Hobart 21-24 August 2011

Making it happen - police and community

The Australasian Council for Women and Policing is calling for papers for the Seventh Australasian Women and Policing Conference: Making it happen in the community.

The streams for the 2011 conference are:

- serving and uniting the community – the policing perspective on women and community engagement
- policing and young women
- women influencing organisations - leadership making a difference
- women and the cyber community
- policing diversity in the community
- pacific communities - women and policing in the pacific
- hate crimes and emerging trends in policing the community
- policing gender based violence

Send your 100 word abstracts and 100 word biography to conference@acwap.com.au by 28 February 2011.

Submissions can be for for papers in the concurrent sessions (20-25 minutes each), workshops/panels (90 minutes) and poster papers. Please specify.

The abstract submission form is available on the ACWAP website www.acwap.com.au.