The designation of certain barristers as Senior Counsel by the President of the Bar Association is in accordance with published principles and intended to serve the public interest.

The appointment of Senior Counsel provides a public identification of barristers whose standing and competence justify an expectation, on the part of those who may need their services, as well as on the part of the judiciary, that they will provide outstanding service as advocates and advisers, to the good of the administration of justice.

Each July, barristers wishing to be appointed Senior Counsel apply to the President of the Bar Association for consideration. Their applications are then considered by the Selection Committee, who take into account the views of a large number of barristers, solicitors and members of the state and federal judiciary.
