The Australian Law Reform Commission released an Issues Paper into the Review of the Family Law System on 14 March 2018. The NSW Bar Association’s Family Law Committee is considering the Paper and will prepare a response.

This seminar will involve a discussion about the themes highlighted in the Issues Paper as well as consideration of the recent developments in the family law jurisdiction.

NSW Bar Association warmly invites members of the NSW Bar and the family law judiciary to this discussion.

Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the seminar to provide an opportunity for members of the bench and bar to connect.
