

THE BAR COUNCIL as a DESIGNATED LOCAL REGULATORY AUTHORITY

The Legal Profession Uniform Law (NSW) confers powers and functions on designated local regulatory authorities.

Section 6 of the Legal Profession Uniform Law defines designated local regulatory authority as:

a person or body specified or described in a law of this jurisdiction for the purposes of a provision, or part of a provision, of this Law in which the term is used.

The designation of local regulatory authorities is set out in the Legal Profession Uniform Law Application Act 2014 (the NSW Application Act), in section 11.

The Council of the New South Wales Bar Association is the designated local regulatory authority for purposes including –

- investigating and instigating proceedings in respect of unqualified legal practice (s.14);
- recommending the removal of the name of a person from the Supreme Court roll (s.23);
- practising certificates – including grant, renewal, imposition of conditions, variation, suspension and cancellation and show cause events;
- compliance audits and management system directions (ss. 257 and 258);
- appointment of a manager for a barrister's law practice (Part 6.4);
- investigatory powers except those provisions relating to complaint investigations (Chapter 7);
- exchanging information (ss. 436 and 437);
- evidentiary certificates (s. 446); and
- applying for an injunction to restrain contraventions of the Legal Profession Uniform Law and the Uniform Rules (ss. 447 – 449).

The Law Society Council and the New South Wales Legal Services Commissioner are also prescribed as designated local regulatory authorities for many of the above provisions.

Delegation of functions under the Legal Profession Uniform Law

The Bar Council, as a local regulatory authority, may delegate its functions under the Legal Profession Uniform Law (s. 406).

Each designated local regulatory authority is required to maintain register of delegations under the Legal Profession Law (s. 413).

- vi. the power under section 89 of the Uniform Law to determine automatic show cause events disclosed by applicants for a practising certificate by deciding that the applicant is a fit and proper person to hold a local practising certificate, but only in respect of an automatic show cause event:
 - a. being a conviction for common assault, provided that a custodial sentence was not imposed in respect of the conviction; or
 - b. falling within paragraph (a) of the definition of automatic show cause event in section 86 of the Uniform Law, provided that the Australian Taxation Office is not the petitioning creditor or a substantial creditor;
 - c. which has been disclosed to the relevant admission authority and any relevant body responsible for issuing practising certificates;
- vii. the powers granted to and the functions which the Council may exercise under Chapter 3 Part 3.5 Division 4 Subdivision 2 of the Uniform Law with respect to disclosures:
 - a. made under section 51 of the Uniform Law by holders of local practising certificates; or
 - b. made by applicants for renewal of local practising certificates
 in respect of convictions for any offence, other than a serious offence or a tax offence, save and except for the powers of and functions of making a determination under the Uniform Law to refuse to grant or renew, to vary (amend), suspend, cancel or impose conditions on a local practising certificate;
- viii. the authority to approve, subject to consultation with members of the Bar Council Executive and, where appropriate PCC chairs, financial and medical experts nominated by barristers for the purposes of financial management and/or medical conditions being attached to their local practising certificates;
- ix. in respect of compliance with conditions attached to local practising certificates, the authority to make determinations as to:
 - a. whether time for compliance with a condition is extended;
 - b. whether a barrister has satisfactorily complied with a condition; and
 - c. whether the nature and extent of any non-compliance with a condition is such that there is no requirement for it to be brought to the attention of the Bar Council;
- x. in exercising the delegations in paragraphs vii to ix the Executive Director consider whether before making a determination whether the matter should be discussed with a member of the Bar Council Executive, Professional Conduct Committee chair or relevant financial and medical experts;
- xi. the powers and functions contained in section 277(1)(j) of the Legal Profession Uniform Law (NSW) only in circumstances where the respondent has died;
- xii. the power to issue a certificate under section 446 of the Uniform Law.

- Item 2

Amend the instrument of delegation made on 25 June 2015 by adding the words underlined below so that the delegation [at Item 1 point C. above] reads:

To the Bar Council Executive, the authority to require a barrister and/or an applicant for the grant of an Australian practising certificate as a barrister to be medically examined pursuant to section 95(1)(b) of the Uniform Law.

The Executive is to use this authority only where it was not reasonably practicable for the Council to make such a requirement, and on the basis that any such requirement made by the Executive be put before the next meeting of the Council.

- Item 3

To delegate to the Executive Director all powers and functions contained in section 74(1) of the Legal Profession Uniform Law (NSW).

To delegate to the Executive Director the powers and functions contained in section 74(2) of the Legal Profession Uniform Law (NSW) to vary, suspend or cancel a certificate at the request of the holder.

- Item 4

1. To the Bar Council Executive the power to serve a written notice on a barrister pursuant to section 83 of the Legal Profession Uniform Law (NSW) stating that the Bar Council proposes to cancel the barristers Australian practising certificate, limited to the ground that the barrister has contravened a condition of the practising certificate.

Any written submissions made by the barrister in response to the section 83 notice and the making of the decision as to whether any action is to be taken pursuant to section 84 of the Legal Profession Uniform Law (NSW) are to be referred to, and determined by, the Bar Council itself.

2. To the Bar Council Executive, the authority to require a barrister and/or an applicant for the grant of an Australian practising certificate as a barrister to:
 - (i) give the Bar Council specified documents or information pursuant to section 95(1) of the Legal Profession Uniform Law (NSW); and
 - (ii) co-operate with any inquiries by the Bar Council that it considers appropriate pursuant to section 95(1)(d) of the Legal Profession Uniform Law (NSW).

The Executive is to use this authority only where it was not reasonably practicable for the Bar Council to make such a requirement, and on the basis that any such requirement made by the Executive be put before the next meeting of the Bar Council.

- Item 5

To the Executive Director the powers and functions of the Bar Council in relation to determining that an applicant for the grant or renewal of a practising certificate who discloses a matter referred to in rule 13(1) of the Legal Profession Uniform General Rules 2015 is a fit and proper person to hold a practising certificate. This delegation is to be exercised in consultation with the President of the Bar Council.

- Item 6

1. To the Executive Director the powers and functions of the Bar Council in relation to determining whether an applicant for the grant or renewal of a practising certificate who has contravened clause 15 of the Legal Profession Uniform Law Application Regulation 2015, where the contravention is considered minor, is a fit and proper person to hold a practising certificate. This delegation is to be exercised in consultation with the President of the Bar Council.
2. To the Legal Officer, Professional Conduct Department, the power to issue notices which may be, or are, required to be issued under the Legal Profession Uniform Law (NSW) and the Legal Profession Uniform Law Application Act 2014 (NSW). This delegation does not derogate from existing delegations in force to the Director and the Deputy Directors, Professional Conduct.
